ARTISTES À LA UNE TOGETH'HER 2020

November 6 – December 13, 2020

The Monnaie de Paris is very pleased to once again welcome the "Artists à la Une Togeth'Her" exhibition. This third edition is being presented in collaboration with Madame Figaro to mark the magazine's 40th anniversary in 2020.

Project initiator and designer David-Hervé Boutin and Madame Figaro gave carte blanche this year to 26 female and male contemporary artists to imagine a cover page for the celebrated magazine by creating portraits of women in many fields who have played a role in our modern history and who will continue to passionately promote essential causes in the future.

The 26 portraits will be brought together in this exhibition highlighting the personalities of these 26 women and their very inspiring careers. The artists have generously donated their works so that they can be auctioned for the benefit of causes they have chosen in collaboration with their muses.

Artcurial, the auction house, is also joining the project by organizing the sale of these works on its website from November 5 to 11. Anyone can bid online at www.artcurial.com.

With similar generosity, most of the artists have given their consent for their work to be reproduced as high-quality 70 x 50 cm prints, in signed and numbered limited editions of 20 to 100 copies. The prints will be on sale at the Monnaie de Paris and on the www.togeth-Her.com website.

To accompany the exhibition and the charity sale, Madame Figaro will publish a supplement in which every work will be highlighted, accompanied by an interview with its artist-creator and a biography of the subject. This supplement, with a print run of more than 100,000 copies, will be available to subscribers and readers in the Paris region and inserted in the November 6, 2020, issue of Madame Figaro.

The partners of “Artistes à la Une Togeth’Her” have all been involved for many years in projects in support of diversity: Sisley Paris, the cosmetics company, which is sponsoring the operation, UBS, the world’s number one wealth-management bank, and Ivanhoé Cambridge, global real estate industry leader. These companies are committed to promoting the careers of inspiring women, while also encouraging artistic creation.

2015 in collaboration with the daily Libération newspaper, to defend freedom of expression and for the benefit of Reporters Without Borders)

The Monnaie de Paris is pleased to be associated for the second consecutive year with “Artistes à la Une Togeth’Her” and to contribute to this generous artistic and human adventure, along with the 26 selected artists, their muses and the causes they champion. The institution is inextricably linked with creation, with artists: from the anonymous ones who created the images of our kings on coins from the Middle Ages to the prestigious contemporary artists who are still invited to occupy our historical spaces today.

Completely safe visits to the Monnaie de Paris. In order to ensure the safety of all visitors, reservations are strongly recommended and masks required. Sanitizing gel is available to everyone during the visit to the exhibition.
